Representative Directors

Chair of the Board, Representative Director
Ueno, Susumu ueno@konan-u.ac.jp (Professor Emeritus, Konan University, Japan)

Thanks to your support, APMAA completed the 15th anniversary conference with great success! I am sure every participant obtained new friends and research partners at the conference, and left Doha with a lot of good memories.

The conference had 360 participants and attendees. Among them, 117 attended from overseas. The size and quality of the conference were beyond my expectations. I am so grateful that APMAA 2019 set a new milestone in our annual conference history. This was only possible with your contributions and participation.

In November 2002, we had a meeting in Fukuoka, Japan to prepare for setting up an "Asia-Pacific Management Accounting Association," as a voluntary academic organization. APMAA was founded officially at a 2004 conference held in Shah Alam, Malaysia. Since that time, conference participants from different countries continue to share the same vision of advancing management accounting research and practice with reference to the Asia-Pacific region. As an academic association in Asia, an important mission of APMAA is to provide regional researchers an easy-to-access platform for communicating their research results with overseas colleagues.

It was the 2009 annual conference held in Beppu, Japan, when we had 10 overseas participants. In 2010, APMAA introduced a mission to become a "world-class international organization" that advances knowledge of management accounting. Thanks to the massive efforts by APMAA directors and steering committee members, over 100 overseas accounting scholars and experts attend our 2020 annual conference. This allows participants to create a network of influential and like-minded overseas colleagues, as well as local colleagues.

It should be noted that APMAA is a "members-first" organization. As everyone recognizes, conference programs are "of the members," "by the members," and "for the members." All conference organizers allocate time for presentation and discussion of research papers by presenters and discussants. This enables them to discover new viewpoints that become intellectual seeds which, as they slowly bloom over time, expand their insights and understanding of their own disciplines.

APMAA is a voluntary academic association and has been run fully by the goodwill of board members and steering committee members. In the past 10 years, administrative and secretariat tasks at headquarters have increased along with the expansion of the association size. How to handle these increased workloads is our urgent and critical issue. We, 2020 board members, recognize the issue well. Under the current competitive environment among academic associations, we are keen to provide supreme service to our members and make APMAA grow further. "APMAA NEWS January 1 Issue" shows our sincere commitment to APMAA.

Our journey to the 20th anniversary conference has just begun. I am grateful that we can work together towards strong, sustainable balanced and inclusive growth of APMAA. Let's walk the APMAA path hand in hand. I look forward to seeing you at APMAA 2020 in Malaysia.

Deputy Chair of the Board, Representative Director
Omar, Normah, normah645@salam.uitm.edu.my (Universiti Teknologi MARA, Malaysia) (APMAA 2020 Executive Adviser)

As a Deputy Chairman for APMAA, I am committed to help the Chairman do the following tasks:

- (1) Disseminate all-APMAA related materials to personal contacts and encourage them to attend the APMAA 2020 Conference
- (2) To provide APMAJ links through emails to all APMAA past participants and authors and encourage them to volunteer as journal reviewers
- (3) To register APMAJ in the Asian Citation Index (ACI) for better visibility globally
- (4) To distribute APMAJ physical copies and journal links to universities in the Asia-Pacific Region for better citation impact
- (5) To follow up with both SCOPUS and WOS on indexing prospects and to update members on the status of these applications from time to time
- (6) Prepare necessary materials for the board and other related meetings for the APMAA 2020 conference
- (7) Offer a venue for the PhD Colloquium at the Accounting Research Institute, UiTM
- (8) To work on getting award sponsors for the three best PhD Colloquium papers at APMAA 2020
- (9) To work on developing an APMAA Charter and constitution to allow it to be officially registered as an international association

Deputy Chair of the Board, Representative Director
Tsay, Yang-Tzong (Jimmy), ytsay@ntu.edu.tw (Professor Emeritus, National Taiwan University)

In our 2019 conference in Doha, I moderated the Executives Meeting in which we set out a blueprint for the future development of APMAA. Some consensuses we have reached include:

- (1) Drafting the APMAA Charter
- (2) Refining the structure of the organization
- (3) Using top-down assignment instead of bottom-up election tentatively of functional members
- (4) Writing job descriptions for each structure function
- (5) Trying to officially register the APMAA under a country jurisdiction
- (6) Adding more members from each country/place, especially Korea, HK, and Vietnam
- (7) Fund-raising
- (8) Establishing strategy partners with other organizations

(9) Encouraging more volunteer involvement from members

My major task and commitment of this new year ahead would be to follow up the implementation of each of the above items. Furthermore, I would be more than happy to give a hand to our board members in carrying out their tasks if necessary.

Senior Directors

Associate-Chair of the Board, Senior Director
Hu, Yiming, huym@sjtu.edu.cn, (Shanghai Jiao Tung University, China)

The 15th APMAA conference held by Qatar University on November 2th -5th 2019 was very successful. We have more and more participants and high-quality papers presented at the APMAA annual conferences. On behalf of the associate chair of the Board of Directors of APMAA, I highly appreciate all the participants and all the team members of the organizing committee of Qatar APMAA conference.

I started attending the APMAA 3rd conference in 2006 in Fukuoka, Japan. After that, I attended APMAA conferences more than 6 times and brought the 2017 APMAA conference to Shanghai. The aim of the APMAA conference is to promote the advancement of management accounting theory and practice with particular reference to Asia-Pacific accounting issues. It is my great honor to be the board member of APMAA.

To promote the APMAA influence in China and Asia, I'll still try my best to support the future conferences, especially the 2023 conference held by Xi'an Jiaotong University in China.

President, Senior Director

It is a great honor that I am nominated to be president of APMAA. I have been a senior director since 2015, Vice President in 2017, and Executive Vice President in 2018. Also, I had the great honor of hosting APMAA Doha 2019 on the 15th Anniversary of APMAA. Over the years, as a senior director and as a Chair of APMAA 2019, I have been dedicated and devoted to the association's strategic goals. APMAA Doha 2019 has broken all records in the history of the APMAA conferences in terms of number of papers (There were 161 submitted papers from 28 countries and 360 attendees). The conference offered a unique experience with a remarkable research quality in both PhD collegium and main conference. I will definitively continue to give my dedicated support to promote the APMAA 2020 conference in Malaysia. I accept the invitation to the APMAA 2020 Board. I will participate in policy development and decision-making at the board meeting during the 2020 annual conference in Malaysia and do my best to foster positive relationships with current and potential members. I will make every possible effort to support young researchers so that they are able to join the APMAA community. In addition, I am going to take over the following duties:

- (1) Develop drafts of the 2020 APMAA NEWS.
- (2) Distribute all APMAA Newsletters and Call for Papers to local accounting professors personally and/or via local academic accounting associations' mailing lists.
- (3) Bring several conference attendees. (I will bring at least 5 attendees from Qatar and may be 5 from the UK and other countries)

Hi from Malang, Indonesia. My name is Grahita Chandrarin (grahitac@unmer.ac.id) and am the Director of Post Graduate Program, University of Merdeka Malang. My first involvement in APMAA was in 2010 (in Taiwan), so in 2020 (in Malaysia) it will be eleven years already. Maybe eleven is just a number but I have witnessed and been involved in APMAA's fast growth and great development in the Asia Pacific region and beyond. Thus, without any hesitation, I will keep continually promoting APMAA to our post graduate students and my colleagues, and as well as in the national organization (Institute of Indonesia Chartered Accountants), conferences and seminars.

Senior Director

Petchchedchoo, Pattanant (pattanant.peo@dpu.ac.th), Dhurakij Pundit University, Thailand (APMAA 2022) (Quality Control Committee Co-head)

I would like to express my gratitude and thanks for hosting such an excellent conference. I was overwhelmed with everything – the speakers, the hotel, the country and the food. As a Chair of APMAA 2022 Bangkok Conference, I commit that each year, I will send my doctoral students to participate in PhD Colloquium, and send academic staff to present their papers in the conference.

I attended 2018 APMAA conference in Japan and 2019 APMAA conferences in Qatar. I have found that the papers presented in each session were so useful for further research development. I obtained a better understanding of the concept of knowledge and how to apply it to problems. In the next conference to be held in Malaysia, I will attend the board meetings to share and to learn some more ideas about APMAA activities. Additionally, I have recommended the PhD Colloquium workshop to my students, and they are interested to join the workshop in 2020 because it is such a good primer. I will also ask more of my colleagues to get involved in the conference for further professional development. Once again, Thanks a lot for good organization.

Senior Director

Tomasz, Wnuk-Pel, tomwnuk@uni.lodz.pl, (University of Łódź, Poland)

For the last few years I have been an APMAA Senior Director and I would like to serve the organization on the same position in future. So far, I have participated in 7 consecutive APMAA conferences (Nagoya in 2013, Bangkok, Bali, Taiwan, Shanghai, Tokyo and Doha). During these conferences I presented more than 10 papers, served maybe 15 times both as discussant and reviewer and several times I was a session chair. I also organized and led the PhD session/colloquium at the Tokyo conference. I always tried to promote APMAA activities in Europe with some small successes like for example bringing my younger colleagues (Phd Żaneta Pietrzak and PhD student Marta Kawczyńska), to conferences in Taiwan, Tokyo and Doha. They enjoyed the conferences very much and I think they will be loyal APMAA members in future. I will continue to support APMAA in any field I can, and especially I will support prof. Kanitsorn Terdpaopong in organizing APMAA research projects possibilities to be presented at the 2020 conference. I also talked with PhD Żaneta Pietrzak about possibility to prepare a comprehensive database (mailing list) of European academics dealing in accounting to be used by future conference organizers to distribute invitations for the conference and also to distribute APMAA news.

It would be my pleasure and honor to serve as APMAA Senior Director in 2020.

Senior Director

Terdpaopong, Kanitsorn, kanitsorn@rsu.ac.th, (Rangsit University, Thailand)

Attending the APMAA Conference is one of my academic goals each year. I have attended APMAA conference many times. My first attendance was in Japan back in 2013 and the most recent one was Doha, Qatar, 2019. I have asked myself, “so what are the main reasons people attend conferences?” For me, a big reason for going to conferences is to meet new people with the same or similar research interest and to meet industry and professional peers. I found that while attending the APMAA Conferences. I have found strangers who I had never met but later become my close friends. It is also a two-fold benefit of attending an APMAA conference, since not only I may learn things inside and outside my discipline, but also have many sessions for professional development which I found very interesting. I learn a great deal from that.

I have a research project with colleagues from the conference and each year we have a commitment to meet and discuss research. Having something together makes coming to the conference more meaningful. Every year, I look forward to bringing friends from my country to the conference and look forward to meeting my old friends and new friends at the conference. I believe that the conference in KL, Malaysia 2020 will surely bring a great experience for us all.

Chen, Yashen, yshchen@xmu.edu.cn, (Xiamen University, China)

I feel honored to be nominated to be a board director of APMAA. I have attended the last two APMAA conferences (2018, 2019), and I love the atmosphere of the conference: academia from different countries and different cultural backgrounds gather together to share their views of management accounting and work together to build a strong community. The committee members' enthusiasm in hosting the future conference is also very impressive. It shows that APMAA has established strong bonds among their members.

As a board director, I will use my research skills, my social connections to further strengthen the visibility of the APMAA among accounting faculty members in China, Hong Kong, Singapore and North America. I will also share my research on neuro-accounting and artificial intelligent with the community, making the APMAA the best organization to make new friends and to learn about cutting-edge research methods.

APMAA conference attendance record: 2015, 2017, 2018, 2019:

I have participated in the APMAA annual conferences four times for the past five years. I also took part in the board meeting of the 2017 and 2019 conferences. I have been a director of APMAA since 2018. With the experience, I am delighted to help future APMAA conferences be successful. I also have an intention to participate in future APMAA conferences as long as my schedule allows. As a director, I will do my best to further develop APMAA through presenting my research.

Director

Zuhroh, Diana, dzuhroh@gmail.com, (University of Merdeka Malang, Indonesia)

Attendance: Bangkok 2014, Bali2015, Taiwan2016, Shanghai2017, Tokyo2018

Right now, I am the head of the Master in Accounting Study Program, at The University of Merdeka Malang. I have a network with the heads of Accounting Master's Study Programs from Universities throughout Indonesia. I am also an active member of the Indonesian Accountants Association of Educators' Accountant Compartment. Of course, I will use my network to promote APMAA 2020. In addition, I will intensively promote the participation of Master in Accounting Students or other study programs as well as doctoral programs from the Merdeka University of Malang. But I also hope that the APMAA 2020 proceedings will be published online and with ISSN number. If the proceeding publication can be realized, I am sure there will be more participants from Indonesia attending the APMAA 2020.

Director

Fu, Yuanlue, ylfu@xmu.edu.cn (Professor, Xiamen University, China))

As the organizer of the APMAA 2012 Xiamen conference, I am very pleased with APMAA's development and progress. The Asia-Pacific Management Accounting Association Conference is a great platform for scholars, students and practitioners from various countries to exchange their ideas. It's my great honor to be a member of APMAA. My research interest is managerial information system, performance evaluation and compensation. I commit to assume my responsibilities in serving as a member of the board.

Director

Rickards, Robert C. robert.rickards@dhpul.de, (German Police University, Germany)

I am a Professor of Accounting and Finance as well as a Research Professor at the German Police University. I attended the APMAA Conferences in Tokyo (2018) and Doha (2019), presenting papers and participating as a discussant at both venues. At GPU, I regularly teach workshops in research methods and statistics for doctoral students, so I always am happy to review and discuss colleagues' and students' research with an eye to enhancing their quality. One particularly attractive aspect of APMAA's conferences is that they afford opportunities to do so in a genuinely collegial atmosphere. Together with Rolf Ritsert and Kanitsorn Terdpaopong, I currently am editing a book for publication by Springer-Verlag in 2020, to which APMAA members from six countries have contributed. On top of that, Rolf and I already are looking beyond it and are thinking about issuing a call for papers/chapters that would be contributed at the 2020 Conference in Kuala Lumpur. Through our association with the Springer-Verlag, we hope to promote an APMAA book series that will reach a worldwide audience of researchers and practitioners. Of course, I shall publicize APMAA in Germany (and elsewhere in Europe) and help recruit new members here. Serving as an APMAA Board Director will be a great honor for me.

Director

Thuy, Nguyen Thi Hong, nhthuykt@gmail.com, (University of Economics and Business, Vietnam National University- Hanoi, Vietnam)

I attended several international conferences as keynote speaker, chair of the session, participant and discussant. So far, I have participated in only one APMAA conference (2019). It's inspiring me a lot because of the topics that were discussed in the conference were not only about management accounting but also interdisciplinary fields. Currently there is not any association of management accountants in Vietnam, but only informal groups of scholars or practitioners of management accounting. From research groups or professional groups, I could promote a network of Vietnamese scholars to join APMAA conferences. I do hope that the next APMAA conference will attract more papers from Vietnam. Otherwise, I am willing to support all the organizing works for next conferences. It would be my pleasure and honor to serve as APMAA Director.

Director

Tse, Michael S. C., msctse@hotmail.com, (Holmes Institute, Australia; Institute of Certified Management Accountants, Australia)

Previous APMAA Conference Attendance: 2015 (Bali), 2018 (Tokyo)

As an academic with long-term involvement in professional community, I would like to promote APMAA through my connections with academic and professional communities in Australia. In particular, I would like to increase the awareness of APMAA and its activities among academics at independent higher education providers through distributing news and information of APMAA. I would also like to strengthen the connections between APMAA and ICMA and explore the possibility of further cooperation between the two organizations. It would be my pleasure to serve at APMAA Board with our esteemed colleagues.

Having the opportunity to share and update knowledge and experience with scholars and industry professionals is one of the ways to be a successful academician. This can be achieved by attending the APMAA conference, which is a well-established international conference. With the support of DPU-CIBA management and APMAA peers I first attended the APMAA in 2018 in Japan. I have always been impressed by the leadership of the chairman, the management team, the international participants, my academic and industry peers, and in particular, the friendships and networks for future collaboration. I am pleased to serve as a director in the 2020 APMAA. I will help to promote the APMAA conference to the members, networks, and partners of DPU-CIBA at both the national and international levels. I am also willing to co-produce research projects with APMAA members in the future.

Senior Supervisor /Adviser of APMAA Malaysia 2020 Conference
Universiti Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia

The Malaysian team is pleased to invite all of you to come to beautiful Malaysia and participate in the 16th APMAA Conference 2020, which is scheduled to be held on 1-4 November 2020. This event will be hosted by Universiti Teknologi MARA (UiTM) and it will be assisted by several other Malaysian universities such as Universiti Kuala Lumpur (UniKL), International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM); Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM); Universiti Sains Malaysia (USM) and Universiti Malaysia Pahang (UMP). Since this is our third time hosting the APMAA conference, we are eager, enthusiastic, excited and looking forward to provide a memorable event to all participants.

The main theme of the conference will be “Staying Relevant: Finance and Management Accounting in a Digital Era”. The new Digital Era is characterized by technology which increases the speed and breadth of knowledge turnover. The implications of this era on education, society and the economy are huge and will continue to increase. Understanding the Digital Era in terms of evolution will help ensure we build sustainable socio-economic relationships both with technology and with the advanced knowledge that technology helps us create.

In tandem with the theme, we invite you to share your research, including theoretical, teaching-based and practice-oriented papers in the conference. We are lining up interesting keynote sessions with a world-renowned digital technology scholar from the Netherlands and two plenary forums involving academic professors and practitioners. In this new digital age, academics and practitioners must work collaboratively and cohesively towards nation building. Within the last fifteen years, APMAA as an association and the APMAA annual conferences have continue to evolve from merely discussing management accounting as a subject matter to innovating management accounting as a strategic tool in this new digital era.

The scope of the APMAA 2020 conference will be to expose participants to practical and theoretical developments in management accounting and finance in the new digital age. We hope the APMAA 2020 conference will be an unforgettable experience and you all will have a memorable and exciting time in Malaysia. Malaysia is Truly Asia.

Message from the 2023 (19th) Annual Conference Organizer

Chair of APMAA 2023 Conference
TIAN, Gaoliang (tian-gl@xjtu.edu.cn), Professor, Ph.D. in Accountancy, Xi'an Jiaotong University, China

APMAA is aimed at propelling the development of management accounting theories and practices and supporting members who are devoted to the advancement of management accounting in the Asia-Pacific region. I became a member of APMAA in 2017 and have attended the annual conferences held in Shanghai, Tokyo and Doha. These experiences let me realize the efforts that AMPAA spends in promoting the development in management accounting. As the host of 2023 APMAA annual conference, it's my great honor to make a contribution to our association and I will do my best to prepare for the conference. I believe Xi'an will provide a good platform to promote the communication among all the members who are dedicated to the development of management accounting.

3. Events and Meetings during APMAA 2020 (and beyond!)

As APMAA grows and develops we are expanding our connection to our members by creating multi-year activities that connect with teaching and research. At APMAA 2020 we will carry out three new plans that will continue into future years: (1) A panel session Series on Asia-Pacific Accounting Schools; (2) A session on Research Projects; (3) A Quality Control Committee. Descriptions follow:

a) Panel Session: APMAA's Asia-Pacific Accounting School Series (2020-2022)

With an expected growth rate of 5½ percent to 6½ percent in the next three years, the International Monetary Fund (IMF, 2018) predicts that the Asia-Pacific region--which accounts to two-thirds of global economy--is one of the fastest growing and remains the world's most dynamic by a considerable margin. The advent of the "fourth industrial revolution" has brought advanced digitalization into the region, resulting in increasing access to information and connectivity. Digital innovation has appeared as a key contributor to this economic growth. Noticeably, the digital revolution is transforming our work, our organizations and our educational system. It is transforming the way our younger generation play, access information, communicate with each other and learn. To date, this revolution has not drastically transformed the teaching and learning process in classrooms either in schools or universities globally. There is no doubt that education has an important role to play in this new digital era. We expect that teaching and learning innovations must take place in accounting education.

In view of this digital revolution, APMAA is taking steps to introduce a dedicated plenary session in its annual conference to discuss how top accounting schools in this region react to the requirements of this new digital era. The plenary session, which we call "APMAA's Asia-Pacific Top Accounting Schools Series (2020-2022)" will be included in the next three annual conference programs in Malaysia, Indonesia and Thailand. The conference hosts will identify top accounting schools in the region and through a sharing-session format, panelists will share what initiatives are being taken by their schools and universities in dealing with the digital revolution in accounting education. Respective conference organizers, in consultation with the APMAA management team, will develop a focus/theme each year to facilitate interesting plenary discussions. Critical feedback among participants on this matter will provide an interesting learning experience for all. APMAA truly hopes that its annual conferences can be a strategic platform for members to learn from each other. The APMAA's Asia-Pacific Accounting School Series begins with the theme "Accounting Education Learning Transformation and Bridging the Digital Divide in Asia-Pacific Accounting Schools" in the 16th APMAA 2020 in Malaysia (Normah Omar, Universiti Teknologi MARA, Malaysia, December 18, 2019).

b) Panel Session by the APMAA Research Projects Committee

Our first Research Projects Committee meeting will be at the 2020 meeting!

The committee will meet each year to help members create research projects that are large enough to need a research team from different countries, and complex enough to need the participation of people with different backgrounds.

We want this meeting to be a launch pad for new projects.

The APMAA research project committee will be a go-between to facilitate creation of research teams for starting collaborative research projects. We encourage you to send the committee Chair (Paul Scarbrough, pscarbrough@brocku.ca) a proposal of your future research. The committee will narrow to 2 projects to present at the 2020 meeting. The selected teams will present their proposals at the committee meeting during APMAA 2020 to attract attention, and participants from different countries. In this regard, the 2020 session will consist of a global brainstorming workshop to start research projects.

How does the committee get involved? How many projects will start this year? What items should we discuss? On these topics, the committee currently has no sure answers. We will explore these topics with you before our first meeting at the 2020 conference and revise our process as we gain experience.

Here is our plan for the first year: The first meeting will take a form of panel session lasting 60 minutes. Therefore, at most two teams will explain their research projects. At the meeting, each team leader explains his/her project in 10 minutes to the audience (20 min. total). After the explanation by both team leaders, the audience will separate into two groups do have a discussion session on each proposed project. Time allocated for these discussions in the group will be 20 minutes or less. Then, each team leader will report their discussions back to all participants (10 min. each, 20 min. total). Later, team leaders will submit a summary and progress report to all team members, Committee Chair and APMAA Board Chair.

The ultimate goals of each research project team may be;

- to produce outputs toward APMAA 20th Anniversary in 2024,
- to publish final outputs in a book and/or peer-reviewed journal, APMAJ.
- to support international comparative studies,
- to develop innovative management accounting skills and knowledge
- to develop innovative business performance measurements, and etc.

All APMAA members are invited to attend the meeting. Research Project teams will be selected on the basis of the quality and originality of their research as already stated. The team leader should be an APMAA member.

In the meeting, research project teams explain their ongoing research projects. There are no limits or requirements concerning the stage of development of the studies.

The committee does not think it would be possible for a team to present any results at the 2020 meeting. However, the committee expects all teams to have made some substantial progress in their research design already and to have a good grasp of their subject, well-defined research questions, and a first outline of their manuscripts.

c) Quality Control Committee and Next Conference Organizers Meeting

APMAA Annual Conference Policy and Mission

APMAA is a “members-first” organization. As everyone recognizes, our annual conferences are the platform that brings our members together. All members are on the list of possible heroes and heroines of our annual conferences.

It is a duty for all conference organizers to develop conference programs and schedules that are “of the members,” “by the members,” and “for the members.” Parallel sessions should be the center in all APMAA conferences and Doctoral Colloquiums. This is our supreme policy and what the Board expects of all conference organizers.

An important mission of APMAA, as an international academic association in Asia, is to provide regional researchers an easy-to-access platform for communicating their research results with overseas colleagues. Our reviewers are not just scrutinizers, as in the case of established conferences such as those organized by the AAA, but rather, we are also facilitators. Developing each other’s competence in research is APMAA’s core mission.

There exist broad variations in quality (relating to content, writings, etc.) among papers submitted to APMAA parallel sessions. Some are very good, i.e., may be at the level that a good scholarly journal will accept. On the other hand, the quality and writing style of some papers is far from good.

APMAA must guarantee that the research results reported at their annual conferences are honest, accurate and can be relied upon (quality control). However, conference organizing teams and paper review teams (local scientific committee) are different every year in their experiences, skills, and in their level of commitment to paper reviews. This is the reason that we founded the “Scientific Committee at Headquarters” in 2018.

Reorganizing the Scientific Committee at Headquarters to become the Quality Control Committee.

The Scientific Committee at Headquarters aimed to support local conference organizing teams and paper review teams to ensure the integrity and the reliability of the manuscripts in the proceedings (quality control). The board changes this committee to the “Quality Control Committee” from 2020. The Quality Control Committee conducts “prior and post audits on an annual conference.” It also has a bigger role.

The APMAA Board requests that all conference organizers use the Model Program and Schedule developed on Dec. 11, 2019 (note 1) as a base framework. Like the frameworks used in APMAA 2018 and 2019, it was developed to carry out the conference policy and mission described at the outset.

APMAA annual conferences need to keep consistency and uniformity over the years and across organizers. This is another role performed by the Model Program and Schedule and the function of Quality Control Committee.

Conference organizing team Chairs should report preparation progress to the Board Chair regularly. Official releases and publications using the APMAA name should obtain prior approval from the Board Chair. This scheme has helped to create and maintain trust towards APMAA from the academic society and was a source of our growth in the past decade.

Conference organizers are required to submit detail program and schedule to the Quality Control Committee Head and the Board Chair two weeks before each APMAA annual conference.

The Quality Control Committee Head prescribes a regular audit report (1 page; with a check-form) of each of forthcoming conferences. The report briefly describes evaluation results mainly about (1) an appropriateness of conference program and schedule as a whole in light of the APMAA policy and mission and (2) an appropriateness of local conference organizing team structure and function. Conference organizing teams are required to submit their conference plans and other information to the Quality Control Committee when requested. These audit reports are sent to the Board Chair and also disclosed in Next Conference Organizers Meetings, which occur at every APMAA conference.

In addition, the committee engages in developing a draft of “Uniform Guidelines for Conference Organizers” by consolidating and updating the existing procedures, rules and guidelines shown in http://s-ueno.sakura.ne.jp/APMAA_asia/To_APMAA_Conference_Organizers_.htm and http://s-ueno.sakura.ne.jp/APMAA_2018_Tokyo/.

4. Statistics of the APMAA 2019 Doha Conference

APMAA 2019, the 15th anniversary conference, finished successfully on November 5. The conference attracted over 160 parallel session papers and 360 participants and attendees. Participants were from Asia-Pacific, Middle East, Europe, North Africa, Oceania and North America. During the conference, 150 research papers were presented and discussed. Without you, we could not make this 15th anniversary conference this great.

We all know that Dr Mohammed Elgammal and all the faculty and staff at College of Business and Economics, Qatar University, spent much time and worked so hard in preparing this conference for the past four years. Facilities of both the College of Business and Economics and the conference hotel (Mondrian Doha Hotel) were very comfortable. The bus tour on the final day helped us to learn much about the history, culture, and strong economy of Qatar and the city of Doha. The conference was full of warm hospitality and we enjoyed all the minutes of our stay in Doha. With a lot of good memories, we left Doha in early November.

Dean Dr Adam Fadlalla, Former Dean Dr. Khalid Al-Abdulqader, Dr Mohammed Elgammal and members and staff of the conference organizing committee and scientific committee at College of Business and Economics, thank you very much for being wonderful hosts.
