Management Accounting For Sustainable Development

October 26th – 29th, 2015

Venue: Udayana University and Warmadewa University, Bali, Indonesia

1. Call for Papers: 2015 Annual Conference

The Asia-Pacific Management Accounting Association (APMAA) was established in 2004 as an international academic organization that focuses on the development of management accounting theory and practices with particular reference to Asia-Pacific accounting issues.

The 11th APMAA Conference theme is “Management Accounting for Sustainable Development”. The concept of sustainable development can be defined by meeting present and future needs properly. Sustainable development aims to reduce conflicts between short term and long term needs. For this purpose, all activities require the integration of environmental, economic and social priorities into supporting policies and programs. Through discussions during the conference, it is expected that we would be able to identify sustainable development challenges and to share practical, evidence-based solutions. Of course, we welcome paper submissions in any areas of management accounting.

APMAA 2015 is hosted by six Indonesian universities, with the following main hosts: Trisakti University, Jakarta; University of Merdeka, Malang; Udayana University, Bali; Warmadewa University, Bali; Hasanuddin University, Makassar; and Mercu Buana University, Jakarta. Let us discuss management accounting issues for our better future while enjoying the beauty of Bali Island.
